

TEST 9

Part 1

| Question | Answer            | Location                                                                                                                                                                                                | Explain                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
|----------|-------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1        | cheese     | Speaker A: First, there's a place called Hardy Shore. It's amazing. Don't forget to try the local cheese once you are there. It's made from milk of local goats, so it's very special.                  | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Đáp án là cheese - Script nói rõ “try the local cheese” → món ăn địa phương.</li> <li>- Key word:</li> <li>+ local (adj): địa phương</li> <li>+ cheese (n): phô mai</li> </ul>    |
| 2        | soccer     | Speaker B: Yes, I do. I heard we can play beach football there. The sand is very soft. Speaker A: Well, we have great sand here, but we call that beach soccer.                                         | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Đáp án là soccer - “we call that beach soccer” → tên chính xác.</li> <li>- Key word:</li> <li>+ beach soccer (n): bóng đá bãi biển</li> <li>+ call (v): gọi</li> </ul>            |
| 3        | market     | Speaker A: Oh yes, the places with great food are all very close to a market. There are all sorts of interesting food for you to try.                                                                   | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Đáp án là market - “close to a market” → vị trí nhà hàng.</li> <li>- Key word:</li> <li>+ market (n): chợ</li> <li>+ close to (phr): gần</li> </ul>                               |
| 4        | sugar      | Speaker B: I also heard the sugar produced here is different from the common types. Speaker A: That's true, and that's because we grow a special type of sugar cane.                                    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Đáp án là sugar - Script nhắc “sugar... different taste”</li> <li>- Key word:</li> <li>+ sugar (n): đường</li> <li>+ sugar cane (n): mía</li> </ul>                               |
| 5        | helicopter | Speaker A: Speaking of that, if you want to have a good view of the ocean and the whole island, there's a helicopter tour. It's a little expensive, but the view is fantastic, so it's worth the money. | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Đáp án là helicopter - “helicopter tour” → chuyến tham quan đặc biệt.</li> <li>- Key word:</li> <li>+ helicopter (n): trực thăng</li> <li>+ tour (n): chuyến tham quan</li> </ul> |
| 6        | hostel     | Speaker A: By the way, each village has a hostel of a different theme. You can check out the themes in this brochure.                                                                                   | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Đáp án là hostel - “each village has a hostel” → mỗi làng có hostel.</li> <li>- Key word:</li> <li>+ hostel (n): nhà nghỉ</li> <li>+ theme (n): chủ đề</li> </ul>                 |

|    |                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|----|----------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 7  | film          | Speaker A: Currently, there are a dozen of giant pirate models under creation, but you can see a film of pirates in the theme park instead. From previous viewers' feedback, the film is one of those must-see movies. | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Đáp án là film</li> <li>- “see a film of pirates” → show pirates bằng film.</li> <li>- Key word:</li> <li>+ film (n): phim</li> <li>+ pirates (n): cướp biển</li> </ul>             |
| 8  | tree climbing | Speaker A: Or, if you want more outdoor activities, there's also tree climbing available on the Tashika Island. If you are new to this, you can ask the coach for some quick training.                                 | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Đáp án là tree climbing - Script: “tree climbing available on Tashika Island”.</li> <li>- Key word:</li> <li>+ climbing (n): leo trèo</li> <li>+ available (adj): có sẵn</li> </ul> |
| 9  | fishing       | Speaker A: It's a great place for fishing, if you are interested. You can go on a boat tour with the local fishermen.                                                                                                  | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Đáp án là fishing - “great place for fishing” → hoạt động chính.</li> <li>- Key word:</li> <li>+ fishing (n): câu cá</li> <li>+ fishermen (n): ngư dân</li> </ul>                   |
| 10 | towels        | Speaker A: Yes, it is. One more thing is, we don't provide towels on the island, so you have to bring your own just in case you get wet. Speaker B: That won't be a problem.                                           | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Đáp án là towels - “bring your own towels” → cần mang khăn.</li> <li>- Key word:</li> <li>+ towel (n): khăn</li> <li>+ provide (v): cung cấp</li> </ul>                             |

You will hear a man inquiring about guidance to travel around Skipping Islands.

First, you have some time to look at questions 1 to 5.

Speaker A: Hi, can I help you?

Speaker B: Oh yes, it's my first time visiting the Skipping Islands. Can you recommend any good spots to visit or stay nearby?

Speaker A: Sure, just for your information, this time of year is the best in terms of temperature. It will be colder a month later, so you have a lot of things to do in the warm weather. And let me just give you a brief introduction of the highlights you can visit here. First, there's a place called Hardy

Shore. It's amazing. Don't forget to try the local cheese once you are there. It's made from milk of local goats, so it's very special.

Speaker B: Okay, I think I'll have to write all these down in case I forget.

Speaker A: Yes, you should. And do you play any sand sports?

Speaker B: Yes, I do. I heard we can play beach football there. The sand is very soft.

Speaker A: Well, we have great sand here, but we call that beach soccer.

Speaker B: Oh, thanks for correcting me. Can you recommend some good restaurants here?

Speaker A: Oh yes, the places with great food are all very close to a market. There are all sorts of interesting food for you to try.

Speaker B: That would be great. I also heard the sugar produced here is different from the common types.

Speaker A: That's true, and that's because we grow a special type of sugar cane.

Speaker B: I see. Hmm, are there any vehicles I can use to get around the island?

Speaker A: Speaking of that, if you want to have a good view of the ocean and the whole island, there's a helicopter tour. It's a little expensive, but the view is fantastic, so it's worth the money.

Speaker B: Sounds like a lot of fun. I've always wanted to do that. I'll note that down.

Before you hear the rest of the conversation, you have some time to look at questions 6 to 10.

Now listen and answer questions 6 to 10.

Speaker A: By the way, each village has a hostel of a different theme. You can check out the themes in this brochure.

Speaker B: Thanks.

Speaker A: There are also many quieter activities if you just want to relax. We have a theme park nearby, which is a 10-minute drive from here. Currently, there are a dozen of giant pirate models under creation, but you can see a film of pirates in the theme park instead. From previous viewers' feedback, the film is one of those must-see movies. I believe you will be surprised by the special effects of the movie.

Speaker A: Or, if you want more outdoor activities, there's also tree climbing available on the Tashika Island. If you are new to this, you can ask the coach for some quick training. And we've got a safety net below. No need to worry about injury or anything.

Speaker B: Okay. Anywhere else I can go on that island?

Speaker A: Well, let's see. You can go to Fisherman's Village.

Speaker B: What's special about it?

Speaker A: It's a great place for fishing, if you are interested. You can go on a boat tour with the local fishermen. After the tour, you can go to a seaside barbecue site, where you can cook the fish.

Speaker B: Hmm. I haven't done fishing for a long time. Not sure if I can still catch one fish or not.

Speaker A: Oh, that wouldn't be a problem. The fishermen will give you a hand during the tour.

Speaker A: I wanted to recommend the Stone Mountains to you, as it's very popular for its camping trips. But lately it's under reconstruction, so camping is not allowed at the moment. Sorry about that.

Speaker B: That's okay. I'd like to try fishing. It must be pretty exciting.

Speaker A: Yes, it is. One more thing is, we don't provide towels on the island, so you have to bring your own just in case you get wet.

Speaker B: That won't be a problem. Thank you very much for your information.

Speaker A: My pleasure.

Part 2

| Question | Answer | Location                                                                                                                                                                                 | Explain                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|----------|--------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 11       | A      | What is remarkable about the Indigo Beach Turtle Center is the hundreds of loggerhead turtles that nest there. People often ask me when the best time to see the turtles is.      | - Đáp án là A - “hundreds of loggerhead turtles” → số lượng lớn rùa có thể thấy. - B sai vì không nói là “best reservation point”. - C sai vì tất cả rùa đều đẻ trứng trên bãi biển, không riêng ở đây.- Key word:+ hundreds (n): hàng trăm+ nest (v): làm tổ |
| 12       | A      | The turtle nesting season goes for about five months from November until March. Although you can see them over this whole time, my favorite time is between November and January. | - Đáp án là A - Guide chọn “favorite time” → best time. - B sai vì là cả mùa, không phải “best”. - C sai vì không đúng khoảng.- Key word:+ nesting season (n): mùa đẻ trứng+ favorite (adj): ưa thích nhất                                                    |

|    |          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|----|----------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 13 | C | But luckily Indigo Beach is a no development zone. In fact, it is foxes, crabs and birds who pose the greatest danger to baby turtles in this area.                                                                                      | - Đáp án là C - “foxes, crabs and birds” → animals gây nguy hiểm. - A sai vì fishing đã bị cấm. - B sai vì không có phát triển nhà ở. - Key word:+ danger (n): nguy hiểm+ animals (n): động vật                                                 |
| 14 | B | Upon arrival at the center, you can, if you wish, hire an audio guide which gives you an informative commentary recorded by the rangers to enhance your experience. This is to replace the personal tours, which we found hard to staff. | - Đáp án là B - “hire an audio guide” → trả thêm tiền để có audio commentary. - A sai vì không còn personal tours. - C sai vì không nhắc đến staff service riêng. - Key word:+ audio guide (n): hướng dẫn âm thanh+ commentary (n): thuyết minh |
| 15 | F | To find it, from the main entrance, go along Turtle Avenue to the end until it splits into two. Take the right hand fork and it's the building in amongst the trees.                                                                     | - Đáp án là F - “right hand fork... in amongst the trees” → vị trí F trên bản đồ. - Key word:+ fork (n): ngã rẽ+ trees (n): cây                                                                                                                 |
| 16 | C | To reach this, go straight from the entrance and it's the L-shaped building on your left across the road from the amphitheater. We've added a new children's activity area to keep the young ones happy and informed.                    | - Đáp án là C - “L-shaped building on your left” → vị trí kiosk. - Key word:+ L-shaped (adj): hình chữ L+ across (prep): đối diện                                                                                                               |
| 17 | D | To find this, starting from the entrance, walk along Turtle Avenue and take the fourth path on your left. The centre is the building just next to the toilets there.                                                                     | - Đáp án là D - “next to the toilets” → vị trí D trên map. - Key word:+ next to (prep): bên cạnh+ toilets (n): nhà vệ sinh                                                                                                                      |
| 18 | E | The pools are in the oval shaped area at the opposite end of the centre from the entrance. The area is surrounded by trees, so it's a lovely shady area to watch baby turtles interacting with each other.                               | - Đáp án là E - “oval shaped area... surrounded by trees” → khu E. - Key word:+ oval (adj): hình bầu dục+ surrounded (v): bao quanh                                                                                                             |

|    |          |                                                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                                                              |
|----|----------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 19 | B | To find it, from the entrance, take the first right off Turtle Avenue and then turn right again. It's not far from the meeting area. | - Đáp án là B - mô tả đường đi → vị trí B.- Key word:+ turn right (v): rẽ phải+ meeting area (n): khu họp                                                 |
| 20 | H | It's the second building you come to on your right from the entrance. The square one, just before the amphitheater.                  | - Đáp án là H - “second building... square... before amphitheater” → vị trí H.- Key word:+ square (adj): hình vuông+ amphitheater (n): nhà hát ngoài trời |

You will hear a talk given by a wildlife tour guide to a group of tourists who are on their way to see turtles nesting on a beach in Australia.

First you have some time to look at questions 11 to 14.

Now listen carefully and answer questions 11 to 14.

Welcome to the Indigo Beach Turtle Center tour.

Now, turtles are easily recognized by their hard shell which protects their body as they swim through the water. We're on our way to Indigo Beach to see some of these majestic marine reptiles as they come to lay their eggs on the beach.

Let me tell you about the Indigo Beach Turtle Center. Australia is an important nesting ground for a variety of turtle species including flatbacks, leatherbacks and loggerheads. The turtles at Indigo Beach are the endangered loggerhead turtles, the second largest species in the world.

All the Australian turtles lay their eggs on beaches and the turtles we are going to see are no exception. What is remarkable about the Indigo Beach Turtle Center is the hundreds of loggerhead turtles that nest there.

People often ask me when the best time to see the turtles is. The turtle nesting season goes for about five months from November until March. Although you can see them over this whole time, my favorite time is between November and January. From January to March I find it gets very hot and the weather is quite unsettled.

The turtles we are going to see are sadly under threat. In the open ocean, fishing is one of the biggest threats to turtles, but this was banned around Indigo Beach in 1978. Another threat to the turtles is people building homes on their natural habitat along beaches and the coastline. But luckily

Indigo Beach is a no development zone. In fact, it is foxes, crabs and birds who pose the greatest danger to baby turtles in this area.

Upon arrival at the center, you can, if you wish, hire an audio guide which gives you an informative commentary recorded by the rangers to enhance your experience. This is to replace the personal tours, which we found hard to staff.

When we get down to the beach, you'll see that the center is in the process of building a viewing platform to see the nesting turtles from, and this will hopefully be ready for next season.

Before you hear the rest of the talk, you have some time to look at questions 15 to 20.

Now listen and answer questions 15 to 20.

OK, before we get to the Indigo Beach Turtle Center, I'm going to show you a map to help you find your way around.

Can you all see the entrance at the bottom of the map? The first thing I'd like to point out is the new turtle research zone. There are lots of interesting displays to see here. To find it, from the main entrance, go along Turtle Avenue to the end until it splits into two. Take the right hand fork and it's the building in amongst the trees.

We're very proud of our new information kiosk where you can find out about turtles through our interactive displays. To reach this, go straight from the entrance and it's the L-shaped building on your left across the road from the amphitheater.

We've added a new children's activity area to keep the young ones happy and informed. To find this, starting from the entrance, walk along Turtle Avenue and take the fourth path on your left. The centre is the building just next to the toilets there.

We've also built baby turtle pools to help with research and conservation. The pools are in the oval shaped area at the opposite end of the centre from the entrance. The area is surrounded by trees, so it's a lovely shady area to watch baby turtles interacting with each other.

If you're looking for a souvenir or a memento of your experience, then we hope you'll like our new gift shop. It used to be on the left of the entrance as you came in, in that circular shaped building, but as we expanded, we had to move it. To find it, from the entrance, take the first right off Turtle Avenue and then turn right again. It's not far from the meeting area.

Some of you may be interested in our brand new conference hall, which has state-of-the-art facilities. It's the second building you come to on your right from the entrance. The square one, just before the amphitheater. It also has a deck with views of the beach and ocean.

That is the end of Part 2. You now have 30 seconds to check your answers to Part 2.

Part 3

| Question | Answer   | Location                                                                                                                                                                                             | Explain                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|----------|----------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 21       | B | Lily: The text I found implied the main issue was with the people he worked with. It said he had some personal disagreements with the other scene painters. Jack: Ah, yes, I remember that. Exactly. | - Đáp án là B - “personal disagreements with the other scene painters” → không hòa hợp với đồng nghiệp. - A sai vì “he apparently enjoyed travelling”. - C sai vì “didn't feel it was beneath him”.- Key word:+ disagreements (n): bất đồng+ colleagues (n): đồng nghiệp |
| 22       | A | Lily: But the book mentioned he had a young family to support, and a teaching position offered a steady income, which was probably very appealing. Jack: That makes sense.                           | - Đáp án là A - “steady income” → lý do tài chính. - B sai vì không phải vì nghệ sĩ ở đó. - C sai vì không liên quan tình cảm với nơi đó.- Key word:+ income (n): thu nhập+ support (v): nuôi sống                                                                       |
| 23       | C | Jack: He suggested that some of Cox's finished oil paintings, even the final versions, retain the loose energetic quality of an initial sketch. Lily: Right, even though they are complete works.    | - Đáp án là C - “retain... quality of an initial sketch” → giống bản phác thảo. - A, B không được đề cập.- Key word:+ sketch (n): bản phác+ retain (v): giữ lại                                                                                                          |
| 24       | B | Jack: He highlighted that Cox would often paint landscapes after he returned to his studio, rather than working directly at the scene. Lily: Yes, that was a key technique for him.                  | - Đáp án là B - “after he returned to his studio” → vẽ từ trí nhớ. - A, C sai vì bị phủ định.- Key word:+ studio (n): xưởng vẽ+ technique (n): kỹ thuật                                                                                                                  |

|    |          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
|----|----------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 25 | C | Lily: At one point, he praised Cox's ability to capture the truth of nature. But then in another review, he almost denied his later, more expressive style. Jack: It's not that they are easy to misinterpret. They just don't seem consistent.                         | - Đáp án là C - “don't seem consistent” → mâu thuẫn nhau. - A sai vì không phải khó hiểu. - B sai vì không nói quá khắt khe.- Key word:+ consistent (adj): nhất quán+ denied (v): phủ nhận |
| 26 | A | Jack: Oh, that one. It's quite funny, isn't it? The scene of people scrambling out of the water in a panic. Lily: I'd agree with that.                                                                                                                                  | - Đáp án là A - “quite funny” → conveys humour.- Key word:+ funny (adj): hài hước+ scrambling (v): chen lấn                                                                                |
| 27 | G | Jack: That's the one that critics frequently related to a famous painting by Turner, rain, steam and speed. Yes, the composition and theme are very similar. Lily: And next crossing the sands.                                                                         | - Đáp án là G - “related to a famous painting by Turner” → so sánh với tranh nổi tiếng khác.- Key word:+ related (v): liên hệ+ composition (n): bố cục                                     |
| 28 | F | Jack: That's a classic Cox subject. He loved painting scenes of travelers on foot. And this one perfectly shows people making their way across the sands. Lily: Yes, he captured a theme of humble human endeavour against the elements that he frequently returned to. | - Đáp án là F - “people making their way” → hoạt động con người.- Key word:+ travelers (n): người đi đường+ activity (n): hoạt động                                                        |
| 29 | E | Jack: That's an interesting one because it's a portrait, or at least a single figure study. Cox was primarily a landscape painter. So this is quite uncommon subject matter for him.                                                                                    | - Đáp án là E - “uncommon subject” → khác thường → đặc điểm nổi bật.- Key word:+ portrait (n): chân dung+ uncommon (adj): không phổ biến                                                   |
| 30 | D | Lily: Ah, that's a powerful one. The way he's captured the stormy sky and the light breaking through the clouds is incredible. Jack: Absolutely. It's a fantastic work.                                                                                                 | - Đáp án là D - “stormy sky... light... clouds” → thể hiện thời tiết xuất sắc.- Key word:+ stormy (adj): bão tố+ clouds (n): mây                                                           |

Section 3

You will hear two students, Lily and Jack, discussing the painter David Cox for a presentation they are preparing.

First you have some time to look at questions 21 to 25.

Now listen carefully and answer questions 21 to 25.

Lily: Right Jack, let's get started on this presentation about David Cox. I think if we divide the research it'll be much more efficient.

Jack: No problem Lily. Yeah, we should get our notes in order. I found quite a bit, but some of the details are a bit fuzzy. Let's start from the beginning with his early career.

Lily: Right. So, initially he was working for a theatre company in London.

Jack: I was reading that he left that job. The reason seems a bit unclear.

Lily: Well, I read that he initially took the job because it involved traveling around with the which he apparently enjoyed. So, it wasn't the traveling he disliked.

Jack: And I didn't see anything that suggested he felt it was beneath him as a serious artist.

Lily: The text I found implied the main issue was with the people he worked with. It said he had some personal disagreements with the other scene painters.

Jack: Ah, yes, I remember that. Exactly. Now later on he took a teaching job in Hereford. I wonder why he accepted that. He was already an established painter in London.

Lily: Hereford was in a beautiful part of the country, but I don't think he had a prior connection to it. And while there were other artists there, I didn't get the sense that was the reason. But the book mentioned he had a young family to support, and a teaching position offered a steady income, which was probably very appealing.

Jack: That makes sense.

Lily: Agreed. Let's move on to what the critics and biographers said about his work.

Jack: The art historian Greg Smith made an interesting point. He suggested that some of Cox's finished oil paintings, even the final versions, retain the loose energetic quality of an initial sketch.

Lily: Right, even though they are complete works. He didn't say anything about Cox taking a long time for each painting.

Jack: Precisely. And then there's his biographer, Nathaniel Solley, who commented on Cox's technique. He highlighted that Cox would often paint landscapes after he returned to his studio, rather than working directly at the scene.

Lily: Yes, that was a key technique for him. It wasn't about combining materials or using a single dramatic color.

Jack: Now, what about the famous critic John Ruskin? His comments on Cox were a bit weird.

Lily: At one point, he praised Cox's ability to capture the truth of nature. But then in another review, he almost denied his later, more expressive style.

Jack: It's not that they are easy to misinterpret. They just don't seem consistent.

Lily: Definitely.

Before you hear the rest of the talk, you have some time to look at questions 26 to 30.

Now listen and answer questions 26 to 30.

Lily: Okay, finally, let's talk about the specific paintings we must include. What about bathers disturbed by a bull?

Jack: Oh, that one. It's quite funny, isn't it? The scene of people scrambling out of the water in a panic. It comes across as humorous.

Lily: I'd agree with that. And sun, wind and rain.

Jack: That's the one that critics frequently related to a famous painting by Turner, rain, steam and speed. Yes, the composition and theme are very similar.

Lily: And next crossing the sands.

Jack: That's a classic Cox subject. He loved painting scenes of travelers on foot. And this one perfectly shows people making their way across the sands.

Lily: Yes, he captured a theme of humble human endeavor against the elements that he frequently returned to. And the girl in a pinnacle.

Jack: That's an interesting one because it's a portrait, or at least a single figure study. Cox was primarily a landscape painter. So this is quite uncommon subject matter for him.

Lily: Right? It's rare in his work.

Jack: Lastly, junction of the seven and the Y.

Lily: Ah, that's a powerful one. The way he's captured the stormy sky and the light breaking through the clouds is incredible.

Jack: Absolutely. It's a fantastic work. Well, I think that covers everything we need.

Lily: Yes, this has been really helpful. Let's put the presentation together tomorrow.

Jack: Perfect. See you then.

That's the end of part three. You now have half a minute to check your answers to part three.

Part 4

| Question | Answer         | Location                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Explain                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|----------|----------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 31       | garden  | As many of you have noticed in your own life, some of these species out-competes other plants and take over a whole garden. So, they have become a serious problem that both the government and the public must deal with. | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Đáp án là garden - “take over a whole garden” → chiếm cả khu vườn.</li> <li>- Key word:</li> <li>+ take over (v): chiếm lấy</li> <li>+ garden (n): khu vườn</li> </ul>   |
| 32       | humans  | These species are often brought out of their native range by humans or birds. They unknowingly carry the seeds with them to a new environment.                                                                             | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Đáp án là humans - “by humans or birds” → birds and humans.</li> <li>- Key word:</li> <li>+ humans (n): con người</li> <li>+ carry (v): mang</li> </ul>                  |
| 33       | Europe  | Common broom or scotch broom is a plant native to Western and Central Europe. It typically grows to 1 to 3 meters tall.                                                                                                    | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Đáp án là Europe - “native to... Europe” → nguồn gốc.</li> <li>- Key word:</li> <li>+ native (adj): bản địa</li> <li>+ Europe (n): châu Âu</li> </ul>                    |
| 34       | timber  | It is estimated that it is responsible for the lost timber production which was worth 15 million US dollars last year in Oregon. As common broom can cause such a big problem, how can we control it?                      | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Đáp án là timber - “lost timber production” → ngành gỗ bị ảnh hưởng.</li> <li>- Key word:</li> <li>+ timber (n): gỗ</li> <li>+ production (n): sản lượng</li> </ul>      |
| 35       | insects | Another way is biological control like introducing some insects from its place of origin. They will disturb the growth of this invasive plant.                                                                             | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Đáp án là insects - “introducing some insects” → biện pháp sinh học.</li> <li>- Key word:</li> <li>+ insects (n): côn trùng</li> <li>+ introduce (v): đưa vào</li> </ul> |

|    |                  |                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
|----|------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 36 | Russia    | This species was brought to America from Russia in 1975 and it is now widely seen throughout the US. It has yellow flowers and bears bright red fruits.           | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Đáp án là Russia - “brought... from Russia” → nguồn xâm nhập.</li> <li>- Key word:</li> <li>+ brought (v): mang đến</li> <li>+ Russia (n): Nga</li> </ul>          |
| 37 | flowers   | It has yellow flowers and bears bright red fruits. It's used widely as landscape and hedge material.                                                              | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Đáp án là flowers - “yellow flowers” → đặc điểm.</li> <li>- Key word:</li> <li>+ flowers (n): hoa</li> <li>+ bright (adj): sáng</li> </ul>                         |
| 38 | smooth    | It has smooth dark green leaves. Common buckthorn produces berry-like black fruits in late summer and autumn.                                                     | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Đáp án là smooth - “smooth dark green leaves” → đặc điểm lá.</li> <li>- Key word:</li> <li>+ smooth (adj): nhẵn</li> <li>+ leaves (n): lá</li> </ul>               |
| 39 | migration | They then carry the seeds long distances along their path of migration. What can we do to control it?                                                             | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Đáp án là migration - “path of migration” → chim di cư.</li> <li>- Key word:</li> <li>+ migration (n): di cư</li> <li>+ path (n): đường</li> </ul>                 |
| 40 | digestive | It is different from C. buckthorn which is a plant that can be used to treat serious digestive problems. Then, we should avoid using it in gardens and landscape. | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Đáp án là digestive - “digestive problems” → vấn đề tiêu hóa.</li> <li>- Key word:</li> <li>+ digestive (adj): tiêu hóa</li> <li>+ problems (n): vấn đề</li> </ul> |

You will hear part of a lecture about the research on the invasion of a plant called buckthorn.

First, you have some time to look at questions 31 to 40. Now listen carefully and answer questions 31 to 40.

Welcome to today's biology lecture. We are going to talk about a plants. What is an invasive species? Well, an invasive plant has the ability to spread aggressively outside its native range in a new habitat.

Invasive plants can even cause economic or environmental harm. At the same time, they threaten local plants by competing for nutrients, light and water. Invasive species have contributed to the decline of many endangered and threatened species in the US. As many of you have noticed in your own life, some of these species out-compete other plants and take over a whole garden. So, they have become a serious problem that both the government and the public must deal with.

These species are often brought out of their native range by humans or birds. They unknowingly carry the seeds with them to a new environment.

Now let's take a look at some invasive species and see how they are affecting native environment. Common broom or scotch broom is a plant native to Western and Central Europe. It typically grows to 1 to 3 meters tall. It is found in sunny sites. In America, this species has become an ecologically destructive plant, especially in grasslands, shrubs and woodlands. It has a competitive advantage over native trees and shrubs in North America. And since its introduction, it has caused not only ecological but also economic problems. It even affected the performance of the commodity industry. It is estimated that it is responsible for the lost timber production which was worth 15 million US dollars last year in Oregon.

As common broom can cause such a big problem, how can we control it? One way to start is by targeting the common broom plants that are producing fruits. Then we need to remove these fruit bearing trees and that will reduce the amount of seeds added to the soil each year. Another way is biological control like introducing some insects from its place of origin. They will disturb the growth of this invasive plant.

Next, there's Japanese Barbary which is native to Japan and Eastern Asia. It tolerates a wide range of soil and moisture conditions. It is found along woodland edges, roadsides, stream banks, old fields and forests. This species was brought to America from Russia in 1975 and it is now widely seen throughout the US. It has yellow flowers and bears bright red fruits. It's used widely as landscape and hedge material. It has been replacing native species in America. Furthermore, the plant can change soil condition and cause diseases to plants like wheat. In recent years, Japanese Barbary has been recognized as an invasive species in many parts of the eastern United States. A variety of techniques including both mechanical and chemical controls may be effective in dealing with this species but the exact method should be tailored to the specific conditions on the site.

Buckthorn or common buckthorn is a species of tree-like plant which usually grows 2 to 3 meters tall but it occasionally reaches up to 10 meters tall. It has smooth dark green leaves. Common buckthorn produces berry-like black fruits in late summer and autumn. It is invasive in many parts of the western part of the United States. It is native to Europe and it was introduced to North America in the early 19th century. It causes damage to local soil and plants. Buckthorn can spread widely with the help of birds that eat its fruits. They then carry the seeds long distances along their path of migration.

What can we do to control it? First, we need to learn how to identify common buckthorn. It is different from C. buckthorn which is a plant that can be used to treat serious digestive problems. Then, we should avoid using it in gardens and landscape. You can contact the invading species hotline if you find common buckthorn in the wild. So let's look at some pictures of these.

That is the end of section 4. You now have half a minute to check your answers. That is the end of the listening test.

