

TEST 6

Part 1

Question	Answer	Location	Explain
1	garden	Speaker B: Additionally, you'll enjoy a delightful view of the garden from your room. Speaker A: That sounds lovely.	- Đáp án là garden - “view of the garden” → khớp trực tiếp với chỗ trống - Key word: + view (n): quang cảnh + garden (n): khu vườn
2	beach	Speaker B: The hotel boasts a private beach located just one kilometer away. It's the perfect place to unwind and soak up the sun.	- Đáp án là beach - “private beach... 1 km away” → khớp đề - Key word: + beach (n): bãi biển + private (adj): riêng
3	rooftop	Speaker B: Your holiday starts with a Friday dinner on the rooftop terrace of the hotel, where you can bask in the breathtaking sunset. Speaker A: That sounds romantic.	- Đáp án là rooftop - “rooftop terrace” → sân thượng - Key word: + rooftop (n): mái nhà + terrace (n): sân thượng
4	talk	Speaker B: You can either join a lively dance session, which is popular among energetic young people, or attend a talk by a specialist. Speaker A: I think the second one is better.	- Đáp án là talk - “attend a talk” → nghe buổi nói chuyện - Key word: + talk (n): buổi nói chuyện + specialist (n): chuyên gia
5	museum	Speaker B: In the morning, we have a private tour to a museum with a knowledgeable guide. It's a fantastic opportunity to immerse yourself in the local culture.	- Đáp án là museum - “tour to a museum” → tham quan bảo tàng - Key word: + museum (n): bảo tàng + tour (n): chuyến tham quan
6	glass	Speaker B: we also pay a visit to a studio, which is renowned for using glass to make an array of ornaments. It is a one-hour trip.	- Đáp án là glass - “using glass to make ornaments” → đồ trang trí bằng thủy tinh - Key word: + glass (n): thủy tinh + ornaments (n): đồ trang trí

7	opera	Speaker B: Then after lunch, in the afternoon, we've arranged a coach trip to watch an opera. It will be a delightful cultural experience.	- Đáp án là opera - “trip to watch an opera” → đi xem opera - Key word: + opera (n): nhạc kịch + coach (n): xe khách
8	massage	Speaker B: you can book a complimentary massage to relax and unwind. It's a service that the hotel specializes in. Speaker A: I'll definitely do that.	- Đáp án là massage - “book a complimentary massage” → đặt massage miễn phí - Key word: + massage (n): massage + complimentary (adj): miễn phí
9	donkey	Speaker B: You'll have the opportunity to ride a donkey and enjoy the breathtaking views. Speaker A: That sounds like an adventure.	- Đáp án là donkey - “ride a donkey” → cưỡi lừa - Key word: + donkey (n): con lừa + ride (n): chuyến đi
10	lamb	Speaker B: Our speciality is grilled lamb. It's a must-try dish. Speaker A: That sounds absolutely delicious.	- Đáp án là lamb - “grilled lamb” → thịt cừu nướng - Key word: + lamb (n): thịt cừu + grilled (adj): nướng

Speaker A: Hi, I'm interested in taking a weekend break in Velia. Can you provide me with some options?

Speaker B: Of course. I highly recommend our holiday package, priced at 280 per person. It includes accommodation, meals, and a range of activities.

Speaker A: That sounds great. What can I expect from the accommodation?

Speaker B: We have carefully selected a reputable hotel for our clients. Each room is well-appointed with a private bathroom, TV, and other amenities. Additionally, you'll enjoy a delightful view of the garden from your room.

Speaker A: That sounds lovely. Are there any other unique features of the hotel?

Speaker B: Absolutely. The hotel boasts a private beach located just one kilometer away. It's the perfect place to unwind and soak up the sun.

Speaker A: That's fantastic. What activities are included in the package?

Speaker B: Your holiday starts with a Friday dinner on the rooftop terrace of the hotel, where you can bask in the breathtaking sunset.

Speaker A: That sounds romantic. Are there any other activities planned?

Speaker B: Certainly. After dinner, you have two options. You can either join a lively dance session, which is popular among energetic young people, or attend a talk by a specialist.

Speaker A: I think the second one is better. I'm not sure if I'll have enough energy for the activities on the following day. What's planned for Saturday morning?

Speaker B: In the morning, we have a private tour to a museum with a knowledgeable guide. It's a fantastic opportunity to immerse yourself in the local culture.

Speaker A: That sounds interesting. What about Saturday afternoon?

Speaker B: Actually, in the morning, we also pay a visit to a studio, which is renowned for using glass to make an array of ornaments. It is a one-hour trip. Then after lunch, in the afternoon, we've arranged a coach trip to watch an opera. It will be a delightful cultural experience.

Speaker A: That's a nice addition. What about Sunday morning?

Speaker B: You have the option to take a leisurely walk nearby, or you can book a complimentary massage to relax and unwind. It's a service that the hotel specializes in.

Speaker A: I'll definitely do that. My wife loves them.

Speaker B: Great choice.

Speaker B: On Sunday afternoon, we have an exciting hill-climbing trip planned. You'll have the opportunity to ride a donkey and enjoy the breathtaking views.

Speaker A: That sounds like an adventure. And what's planned for Sunday evening?

Speaker B: Sunday evening, we'll have a barbecue dinner at a restaurant located at the top of the hill. Our speciality is grilled lamb. It's a must-try dish.

Speaker A: That sounds absolutely delicious. I'm convinced. I'll book the holiday package. Thank you for your assistance.

Speaker B: You're welcome. I'm confident that you'll have an amazing time in Velia. Let me assist you with the booking process.

Part 2

Question	Answer	Location	Explain
11	C	If you feel like getting involved and having a go yourself, you can join one of our bush timbering lessons free of charge, where you'll be able to make your own keyring under the supervision of a skilled craftsman. The most popular attraction in the garden is our aviary, where you can observe a whole range of bird species.	- Đáp án là C - “bush timbering lessons free of charge” → được bao gồm trong giá vé - A sai vì phải mua găng tay - B sai vì ladybugs chỉ là trung bày, không nhắc included ticket - D sai vì food phải trả tiền (restaurant) - E sai vì hummingbird phải trả thêm - Key word: + free of charge (adj): miễn phí + lesson (n): buổi học
12	B	And there's no extra charge for that. Unfortunately, there are some areas that are temporarily off limits to visitors today.	- Đáp án là B - “insect hut... no extra charge” → có ladybugs miễn phí - C đã chọn ở câu trước, nhưng câu này yêu cầu chọn thêm mục included → ladybugs cũng included - Các đáp án khác không đúng vì phải trả thêm hoặc không đề cập - Key word: + no extra charge: không mất thêm phí + insects (n): côn trùng
13	A	And if you're looking to purchase a gift, why not buy that special someone a potted bush or orchid from our plant care centre. And our new treetop cafe is under construction, which will be very impressive when it's finished.	- Đáp án là A - “plant care centre” mở (khuyến khích mua cây) - B sai vì cafe đang xây dựng - C sai vì gift shop đóng - D đúng (model town mở) nhưng đây là câu chọn 2 → A + D - Key word: + purchase (v): mua + centre (n): trung tâm
14	D	In fact, the model town's already opened ahead of schedule, and it's attracting a lot of people. Now, our tourist office is normally available to provide tourists with a variety of help.	- Đáp án là D - “model town's already opened” → đang mở hôm nay - E sai vì tourist office đóng (staff sick) - Key word: + opened (v): mở + ahead of schedule: sớm hơn kế hoạch

15	D	And Mrs. Mary is one of our experts, and she is personally responsible for our beautiful display of plants that are all found growing naturally in the local area. Mr. Burson has the difficult task of growing varieties of plants that are suited to much drier and hotter climates than ours.	- Đáp án là D - “plants... growing naturally in the local area” → native plants - Key word: + naturally (adv): tự nhiên + local area (n): khu vực địa phương
16	A	Mr. Burson has the difficult task of growing varieties of plants that are suited to much drier and hotter climates than ours, which means we do not have to store water on site. If you visit the Glass House, you'll be able to see many plants that he has managed to cultivate.	- Đáp án là A - “drier and hotter climates” → desert varieties - Key word: + drier (adj): khô hơn + climate (n): khí hậu
17	B	Mr. Smith is responsible for the produce that you can eat in our restaurant, which ranges from varieties that grow under the ground to those that grow on trees and bushes. Now, Mr. Noonee here is our expert on the most commonly growing plant in the world, grass.	- Đáp án là B - “produce that you can eat” → edible plants - Key word: + produce (n): nông sản + eat (v): ăn
18	C	Now, Mr. Noonee here is our expert on the most commonly growing plant in the world, grass. You may have noticed how beautifully green and lush our grounds are, thanks to his specialist knowledge.	- Đáp án là C - grass → lawns → lawns and alternatives - Key word: + grass (n): cỏ + grounds (n): khuôn viên
19	H	Mr. Scanlon ensures that our soil is full of nutrients, so that the natural habitat is supported and encouraged. He does this by fertilising the earth with a special formula of his own creation.	- Đáp án là H - “soil... full of nutrients” → soil nutrients - Key word: + soil (n): đất + nutrients (n): chất dinh dưỡng

20	G	Finally, I would like to introduce you all to Dr. Mandelson. He is the manager of our landscaping team and works closely with our other experts to ensure that everyone works together to create a landscape that is both beautiful and sustainable.	- Đáp án là G - “works together... create landscape” → unified design - Key word: + landscape (n): cảnh quan + together (adv): cùng nhau
----	----------	---	--

You will hear a guide talking to a group of visitors in a garden.

First, you'll have some time to look at questions 11 to 14.

Now, listen carefully and answer questions 11 to 14.

Hello, welcome to Pine Garden. My name is Manuel, and I'd like to tell you a few things about our establishment before you all wander off and begin your exploration of the grounds.

I know you're keen to begin, so I'll try to keep this short.

First of all, I'd like to explain what you can do with your ticket.

If you want to be closer to nature, you could visit our planting area.

In that area, visitors can plant small flowers and bulbs that will grow and become part of the garden.

The planting activity is completely free. However, if you have sensitive hands, you'll need to purchase garden gloves to protect your skin.

Here at Pine Garden, we sell a number of wooden goods carved from trees that have been felled in our very own pine forest.

If you feel like getting involved and having a go yourself, you can join one of our bush timbering lessons free of charge, where you'll be able to make your own keyring under the supervision of a skilled craftsman.

The most popular attraction in the garden is our aviary, where you can observe a whole range of bird species.

Entry to this section is free, but you have to pay a small supplement in order to enter the hummingbird section.

Also, the insect hut not far from it may arouse your interest.

There you can find some interesting insects, such as butterflies, pocket ladybugs, dragonflies and so on.

And there's no extra charge for that.

Unfortunately, there are some areas that are temporarily off limits to visitors today.

For example, the gift shop that closed earlier this year and won't be open for another month or so.

As I mentioned before, however, you're free to visit our restaurant for food and snacks.

And if you're looking to purchase a gift, why not buy that special someone a potted bush or orchid from our plant care centre.

And our new treetop cafe is under construction, which will be very impressive when it's finished.

In fact, the model town's already opened ahead of schedule, and it's attracting a lot of people.

Now, our tourist office is normally available to provide tourists with a variety of help.

However, the officer is sick at home today.

Please do not let this discourage you from visiting these as they provide quite an experience.

Before you hear the rest of the talk, you'll have some time to look at questions 15 to 20.

Now listen and answer questions 15 to 20.

I also would like to introduce you to our plant specialists who are responsible for the wonderful plant displays here at Pine Garden.

And Mrs. Mary is one of our experts, and she is personally responsible for our beautiful display of plants that are all found growing naturally in the local area.

Mr. Burson has the difficult task of growing varieties of plants that are suited to much drier and hotter climates than ours, which means we do not have to store water on site.

If you visit the Glass House, you'll be able to see many plants that he has managed to cultivate without the need for rain or irrigation.

Mr. Smith is responsible for the produce that you can eat in our restaurant, which ranges from varieties that grow under the ground to those that grow on trees and bushes.

Now, Mr. Noonee here is our expert on the most commonly growing plant in the world, grass.

You may have noticed how beautifully green and lush our grounds are, thanks to his specialist knowledge.

Mr. Scanlon ensures that our soil is full of nutrients, so that the natural habitat is supported and encouraged.

He does this by fertilising the earth with a special formula of his own creation.

Finally, I would like to introduce you all to Dr. Mandelson.

He is the manager of our landscaping team and works closely with our other experts to ensure that everyone works together to create a landscape that is both beautiful and sustainable.

Well, that just about rounds it up.

Now, if anyone has any questions...

That is the end of Section 2. You now have half a minute to check your answers.

Part 3

Question	Answer	Location	Explain
21	B	Peter: Well, I guess I'd go for ones that can help me with the skill set I lack for my future career. I still need a lot of practical training in dealing with statistics.	- Đáp án là B - “dealing with statistics” = xử lý dữ liệu. - A là của Shona, không phải Peter. - C bị phủ định (“don’t want to... business plan”). - Key word: + statistics (n): dữ liệu thống kê + practical training (n): đào tạo thực tế
22	B	Peter: I thought I was a good team leader. But many people I've worked with for various projects mentioned something else. They admire that I could work around the clock to finish projects on time.	- Đáp án là B - “work around the clock” → làm việc nhiều giờ. - A sai vì anh nghĩ vậy nhưng không đúng. - C sai vì không phải điểm mạnh chính. - Key word: + admire (v): ngưỡng mộ + around the clock (phr): liên tục
23	B	Peter: Then I'll ask the careers officer to look at my personal statement and give me some tips on polishing it up. Shona: Don't you need help with your CV?	- Đáp án là B - Peter nhờ sửa personal statement. - A sai vì anh tự làm CV. - C sai vì không cần form nữa. - Key word: + personal statement (n): bài luận cá nhân + polishing (v): chỉnh sửa

24	A	Peter: Well, even though I've learned how the IT industry developed in the past from different lectures, I know nothing about its latest trends. I'm prepared to work in an IT company and fill in the information gap.	- Đáp án là A - “know nothing about latest trends” → cập nhật kiến thức. - B, C không được đề cập. - Key word: + trends (n): xu hướng + gap (n): khoảng thiếu
25	B	Peter: But regarding the language sessions, I'm doing poorly in Japanese. I'd better drop it before wasting more time. I think I'll learn Spanish instead.	- Đáp án là B - bỏ Japanese → học Spanish → đổi ngôn ngữ. - A sai vì không tiếp tục. - C sai vì không bỏ hoàn toàn. - Key word: + drop (v): bỏ + instead (adv): thay vào đó
26	B	Shona: Yes, I heard they offer internship positions dealing with customer interaction management. Peter: Well, the position offers the chance to become fully aware of customer value and keep in touch with customers to keep them highly engaged and satisfied.	- Đáp án là B - “customer interaction management” → hiểu quan hệ khách hàng. - Key word: + customer (n): khách hàng + interaction (n): tương tác
27	C	Peter: As an observer and participant of a particular project, an intern can learn how to work to a strict deadline. Shona: That's not my area of expertise, but I'm sure you'll excel at this.	- Đáp án là C - “work to a strict deadline” → quản lý thời gian. - Key word: + deadline (n): hạn chót + strict (adj): nghiêm ngặt
28	F	Shona: You know, things like examining a company's financial statements, the income statement, balance sheet and cash flow statement. Peter: I want to give it a try, but I might get rejected, so I need a backup plan.	- Đáp án là F - “financial statements” → đào tạo tài chính. - Key word: + financial (adj): tài chính + statements (n): báo cáo
29	A	Peter: Yes, it is another consulting firm. It provides opportunities to reach out to other business partners and pay attention to networking. Shona: Well, that sounds interesting.	- Đáp án là A - “reach out to business partners” → tạo mối quan hệ. - Key word: + networking (n): xây dựng quan hệ + partners (n): đối tác

30	D	Shona: It's an international company with headquarters in Spain, so most of the managers here speak Spanish. Shona: Thanks to the internship experience, I became fluent in it.	- Đáp án là D - “became fluent” → sử dụng ngoại ngữ. - Key word: + fluent (adj): thành thạo + Spanish (n): tiếng Tây Ban Nha
----	----------	--	---

You will hear two students called Shona and Peter discussing their internship options.

First, you have some time to look at questions 21 to 25. Now listen carefully and answer questions 21 to 25.

Peter: Hi Shona

Shona: Hi Peter. Have you made up your mind about which internship program to apply for?

Peter: Yes, pretty much.

Shona: I'm entirely at a loss. I mean, there are so many good ones. Can you give me some tips?

Peter: Sure.

Shona: What is your top priority when weighing up these programs?

Peter: Well, I guess I'd go for ones that can help me with the skill set I lack for my future career. I still need a lot of practical training in dealing with statistics. But keep in mind that you don't want to set your goal too grand, like drawing up a business plan. You might end up nowhere.

Shona: I see. So I want to learn how to organize ideas and present them.

Peter: Good. Now you've nailed step one.

Shona: Now what?

Peter: You must also consider your strengths for a suitable internship program. Otherwise, you might get rejected or end up with one that you are incapable of doing.

Shona: But I have no idea what I'm good at.

Peter: Communicate with people around you or whom you've worked with. That's what I did. I thought I was a good team leader. But many people I've worked with for various projects mentioned something else. They admire that I could work around the clock to finish projects on time. And indeed, I'm more focused and perform better when I'm pushed for time.

Shona: Good point. So what do you plan to do next?

Peter: I'll visit the careers officer to help me with the school application form. You know, the one we have to submit before applying to companies.

Shona: But it is unnecessary to fill it in. It's only optional.

Peter: Really? I'm glad I heard from you. Then I'll ask the careers officer to look at my personal statement and give me some tips on polishing it up.

Shona: Don't you need help with your CV?

Peter: No, I'm good. I have already learned to write it in class.

Shona: That's good. So what kind of company did you choose?

Peter: I've decided to apply for an IT company.

Shona: Why is that?

Peter: Well, even though I've learned how the IT industry developed in the past from different lectures, I know nothing about its latest trends. I'm prepared to work in an IT company and fill in the information gap.

Shona: I see. What do you plan to do next term?

Peter: I think I'll stick to most of the optional modules I've chosen. But regarding the language sessions, I'm doing poorly in Japanese. I'd better drop it before wasting more time. I think I'll learn Spanish instead.

Shona: Oh, I learned Spanish for a year. I think you'll find it interesting.

Before you hear the rest of the conversation, you have some time to look at questions 26 to 30. Now listen and answer questions 26 to 30.

Shona: Do you know what job opportunities these companies offer interns?

Peter: I've searched online and browsed some of the schemes. Do you know SAIC?

Shona: Yes, I heard they offer internship positions dealing with customer interaction management.

Shona: But I'm not quite sure what that means.

Peter: Well, the position offers the chance to become fully aware of customer value and keep in touch with customers to keep them highly engaged and satisfied.

Peter: These include activities such as PR, communications, marketing and customer service.

Shona: Sounds like loads of work to do. What about Gemini Technologies?

Peter: It's an IT consulting company. Although many employees say it's stressful working there, I want to apply for this one.

Shona: Why is that?

Peter: Actually, the company provides service to improve software architecture.

Peter: But that's pretty demanding as a team of software engineers has to provide detailed analysis and suggestions for required changes before the deadline.

Peter: As an observer and participant of a particular project, an intern can learn how to work to a strict deadline.

Shona: That's not my area of expertise, but I'm sure you'll excel at this.

Peter: I certainly do hope so. Have you checked out Deloitte?

Shona: Of course, that's a renowned accounting firm, and thus its internships offer excellent learning experiences in this regard.

Shona: You know, things like examining a company's financial statements, the income statement, balance sheet and cash flow statement.

Peter: I want to give it a try, but I might get rejected, so I need a backup plan.

Shona: Have you read anything about Kearney?

Peter: Yes, it is another consulting firm. It provides opportunities to reach out to other business partners and pay attention to networking.

Shona: Well, that sounds interesting.

Peter: I'm thinking about Vortex, but I haven't got anything useful from its website.

Shona: I worked there last summer. It's an international company with headquarters in Spain, so most of the managers here speak Spanish.

Shona: Thanks to the internship experience, I became fluent in it.

Peter: Right. That's not for me.

That is the end of part three. You now have half a minute to check your answers to part three.

Part 4

Question	Answer	Location	Explain
31	depth	They simply don't have the depth that a work of art has, and this means that you may see them once, but you won't want to watch them again. Why is it that so many commercial films today have such a limited shelf life?	- Đáp án là depth - Trong script nói rõ “they simply don't have the depth that a work of art has” → thiếu “độ sâu” nên không đạt đến mức nghệ thuật. - Câu hỏi paraphrase “lack the ... necessary for great art” = thiếu yếu tố cần thiết → chính là “depth”. - Key word: + depth (n): chiều sâu + work of art (n): tác phẩm nghệ thuật
32	actors	In addition, the commercial nature of filmmaking means that rather than focusing on the developed characters in the film, many films are just becoming vehicles for actors, box office successes who essentially play the same part each time. Then, as well as this, many critics would argue that the greatest black and white films had their own special world with its own special atmosphere,	- Đáp án là actors - Script: “vehicles for actors” → phim chỉ là “công cụ cho diễn viên nổi tiếng”. - Đề: “using successful ___ in the films” → từ “successful” ám chỉ “box office successes” → actors. - Key word: + actors (n): diễn viên + box office success (n): thành công phòng vé
33	light	many critics would argue that the greatest black and white films had their own special world with its own special atmosphere, and that nowadays, it's harder to create this because the director is unable to play with light in the same way. Another problem is that many directors lack the ability to focus the camera on the important points.	- Đáp án là light - Script: “play with light” → sử dụng ánh sáng để tạo không khí. - Đề: “use ___ to create an atmosphere” → paraphrase trực tiếp. - Key word: + light (n): ánh sáng + atmosphere (n): bầu không khí

34	emotion	Which brings me on to Ingmar Bergman, the great Swedish film director who died in 2007. No other director has equaled Bergman in his ability to convey emotion.	- Đáp án là emotion - Script: “ability to convey emotion” → khả năng truyền tải cảm xúc. - Đề: “portray ____” = convey → emotion. - Key word: + convey (v): truyền tải + emotion (n): cảm xúc
35	purpose	If you study a film such as Wild Strawberries, you'll see that every little detail is significant. Each image on the screen is there for a purpose, and gradually builds up an understanding of the central meaning.	- Đáp án là purpose - Script: “each image... for a purpose” → mỗi hình ảnh đều có mục đích. - Đề: “has a ____ and contributes...” → khớp hoàn toàn. - Key word: + purpose (n): mục đích + significant (adj): có ý nghĩa
36	words	With Bergman, too, you know that a small gesture made by a character, or the expression on a character's face, can tell you just as much as the words uttered. In his film Persona, the central character says nothing, but meaning is conveyed by what we see on the screen.	- Đáp án là words - Script: “as much as the words uttered” → cử chỉ quan trọng như lời nói. - Đề paraphrase: gestures as important as his or her ____ → words. - Key word: + gesture (n): cử chỉ + utter (v): thốt ra
37	myth	But Bergman wasn't just a great cinematographer. He was also a great storyteller. Each of his films follows a similar pattern in that the story is organized on two levels. Firstly, on the level of a straightforward, dramatic narrative, but secondly, on the level of myth,	- Đáp án là myth - Script nói rõ 2 cấp độ: “dramatic narrative” và “myth”. - Đề: “as drama and as ____” → drama = narrative → còn lại là myth. - Key word: + narrative (n): cốt truyện + myth (n): huyền thoại
38	dreams	First of all, we have the idea of the journey. Part of the journey is a real one, but linked with that is the theme of dreams, where they can take us, and what we can learn from them.	- Đáp án là dreams - Script: journey gắn với “dreams”. - Đề: “connection between journeys and ____” → chính là dreams. - Key word: + journey (n): hành trình + dreams (n): giấc mơ

39	family	Another theme, which was to be central to Bergman's work throughout his life, is that of relationships, and in particular, the ties that join the members of a family together. And finally, as the old man in Wild Strawberries struggles to make sense of his life,	- Đáp án là family - Script: “members of a family” → mối quan hệ gia đình. - Đề: “___ relationships” → family relationships. - Key word: + relationships (n): mối quan hệ + family (n): gia đình
40	accept	And finally, as the old man in Wild Strawberries struggles to make sense of his life, we have another theme which underlies all his work, no matter how anxious or unhappy his characters may appear to be, and that is that we have to accept everything that life can give. It's not a fashionable philosophy,	- Đáp án là accept - Script: “we have to accept everything that life can give”. - Đề: “need to ___ all that life offers” → paraphrase hoàn toàn. - Key word: + accept (v): chấp nhận + philosophy (n): triết lý

You will hear part of a lecture on the Swedish film director Ingmar Bergman given to media study students by a film critic.

First you have some time to look at questions 31 to 40.

Now listen carefully and answer questions 31 to 40.

You can read a great novel, listen to a great symphony, or go to see a painting by a great artist, and you'll want to experience it again and again.

And every time you do, you'll learn something new from it.

Very few films achieve this.

Most of them are mere entertainment, and very few of them could be said to be works of art.

They simply don't have the depth that a work of art has, and this means that you may see them once, but you won't want to watch them again.

Why is it that so many commercial films today have such a limited shelf life?

One problem is that for many films, once you've seen them once and you know what happens, that's it.

They rely on the element of surprise to keep you interested, and once that's lost, that feeling of what's going to happen next, there's nothing left.

In addition, the commercial nature of filmmaking means that rather than focusing on the developed characters in the film, many films are just becoming vehicles for actors, box office successes who essentially play the same part each time.

Then, as well as this, many critics would argue that the greatest black and white films had their own special world with its own special atmosphere, and that nowadays, it's harder to create this because the director is unable to play with light in the same way.

Another problem is that many directors lack the ability to focus the camera on the important points. There may be impressive visual images, but they don't contribute to the meaning of the film.

Which brings me on to Ingmar Bergman, the great Swedish film director who died in 2007.

No other director has equaled Bergman in his ability to convey emotion.

His films have the dramatic force of a work by the world's greatest playwrights, such as Ibsen or Shakespeare.

Watching Bergman's films is an enriching experience.

Nothing is immediately obvious or predictable, but gradually it becomes clear where he is taking you.

If you study a film such as Wild Strawberries, you'll see that every little detail is significant.

Each image on the screen is there for a purpose, and gradually builds up an understanding of the central meaning.

With Bergman, too, you know that a small gesture made by a character, or the expression on a character's face, can tell you just as much as the words uttered.

In his film Persona, the central character says nothing, but meaning is conveyed by what we see on the screen.

But Bergman wasn't just a great cinematographer.

He was also a great storyteller. Each of his films follows a similar pattern in that the story is organized on two levels.

Firstly, on the level of a straightforward, dramatic narrative, but secondly, on the level of myth, and the story works throughout the film on both these levels.

In Bergman's film Wild Strawberries, an old man travels back to the places he knew as a child and a young man.

In the film, we can identify themes that occur again and again in Bergman's work.

First of all, we have the idea of the journey.

Part of the journey is a real one, but linked with that is the theme of dreams, where they can take us, and what we can learn from them.

Another theme, which was to be central to Bergman's work throughout his life, is that of relationships, and in particular, the ties that join the members of a family together.

And finally, as the old man in Wild Strawberries struggles to make sense of his life, we have another theme which underlies all his work, no matter how anxious or unhappy his characters may appear to be, and that is that we have to accept everything that life can give.

It's not a fashionable philosophy, and it may be why Bergman's films have fallen out of fashion.

